EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 MONTGOMERY, ALA., January 8th, 1861. }

Gentlemen of the Convention :

In obedience to the resolution adopted by the Convention on yesterday, requesting me to communicate any information I may have respecting the condition of the country ; I herewith transmit such information as is in my possession, touching the public interests and a brief statement of my acts in regard thereto, and the reasons therefor. All of which are respectfully submitted to the consideration of the Convention. Very Respectfully,

A. B. MOORE.

The General Assembly at its last session passed unanimously, with two exceptions, resolutions requiring the Governor in the event of the election of a Black Republican to order elections to be held for delegates to a Convention of the State. The contingency contemplated having occurred, making it necessary for me to call a Convention, writs of election were issued immediately after the votes of the electoral college were cast. It was my opinion, that under the peculiar phraseology of the resolutions I was not authorized to order elections upon the casting of the popular vote. I therefore determined not to do so.

As the slaveholding States have a common interest in the institution of slavery, and must be common sufferers in its overthrow. I deemed it proper, and it appeared to be the General sentiment of the people, that Alabama should consult and advise with the other slaveholding State, so far as practicable, as to what is best to be done to protect their interest and honor in the impending crisis. And seeing that the Conventions of South Carolina and Florida would probably act before the Convention of Alabama assembled, and that the Legislatures of some of the States would meet and might adjourn without calling Conventions, prior to the meeting of our Convention, and thus the opportunity of conferring with them upon the great and vital question, on which you are called to act. I determined to appoint Commissioners to all the slaveholding States. After appointing them to those States, whose Conventions and Legislatures were to meet in advance of the Alabama Convention, it was suggested by wise counsellors that if I did not make similar appointments to the other Southern States, it might seem to be making in.

vidious distinction, which was not intended. Being convinced that it might be so considered, I then determined to appoint Commissioners to all the slaveholding States, and made the following appointments.

A. T. Hopkins and T. M. Gilmer, Commissioner to Virginia.

John A. Elmore, Commissioner to South Carolina.

J. W. Garrett and Robert H. Smith, Commissioners to North Carolina.

J. L. M. Curry, Commissioner to Maryland.

David Clopton, Commissioner to Delaware.

S. T. Hale, Commissioner to Kentucky.

William Cooper, Commissioner to Missouri.

L. P. Walker, Commissioner to Tennessee.

David Aubbard Commissioner to Arkansas.

John A. Winston, Commissioner to Louisiana.

J. M. Calhoun, Commissioner to Texas.

E. C. Bullock, Commissioner to Florida,

John Gill Shorter, Commissioner to Georgia.

E. W. Pettus, Commissioner to Mississippi.

All these gentlemen are well known to the people of Alabama, and are distinguished for their ability, integrity and patriotism. The following is a copy of the Commission to each of them in substance.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
MONTGOMERY, ALA., December, 1860. }

Whereas, the election of Abraham Lincoln, a Black Republican to the Presidency of the United States by a purely sectional vote, and by a party whose leading and publicly avowed object is the destruction of the institution of slavery as it exists in the slaveholding States, is an accomplished fact. And whereas, the success of said party, and the power which it now has, and soon will acquire greatly endanger the peace, interest, security and honor of the slaveholding States, and make it necessary that prompt and effective measures should be adopted to avoid the evils which must result from a Republican Administration of the Federal Government; and as the interests and destiny of the slaveholding States are the same, they must naturally sympathise with each other; they therefore so far as may be practicable, should consult and advise together as to what is the best to be done to protect their mutual interest and honor.

Now therefore, in consideration of the premises, I Andrew B. Moore, Governor of the State of Alabama, by virtue of the general powers in me vested, do hereby constitute and appoint Col. John A. Elmore, a citizen of said State, a Commissioner to the sovereign State of South Carolina to consult and advise with His Excellency Gov. Wm. H. Gist, and the members of the Convention to be assembled in said State on the 17th day of December, inst., as to what is best to be done to protect the rights, interests and honor of the slaveholding States, and to report the result of such consultation in time to enable me to communicate the same to the Convention of the State of Alabama to be held on the 7th day of January next.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed in the city of Montgomery, this      day of December, A. D., 1860.

A. B. MOORE.

I herewith transmit to you the reports, so far as they have been received, and will lay before the Convention any others that may be made immediately on their receipt. I trust that my course in the appointment of these commissioners will meet the approbation of the Convention.

Having satisfactory reason to believe that Alabama would withdraw from the present Union, I considered it my duty to take such steps as would enable the Convention and Legislature to provide the means of putting the State in a condition to protect and defend her citizens, in the event of her secession.

Knowing that the Treasury was not provided with funds sufficient for the purpose—that bonds at such a crisis could not be sold out of the State, except at a great sacrifice, and believing that at such a time, additional taxation upon the people should be avoided, if possible, I determined to take the responsibility of requesting the banks to suspend specie payments, for the purpose of retaining their specie to aid the State, provided it should become necessary.—With this view, I addressed a letter to each of the banks, a copy of which will be found in the following address to the people of Alabama, publish on the      day of December 1860. I refer the Convention to this address for a full statement of the reasons which induced my action in this matter.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 MONTGOMERY ALA., 17th December, 1860. }

To the People of Alabama :

Strong appeals have been made to me by many citizens from different sections of the State, to convene the Legislature for the purpose of providing the ways and means of protecting the interests and honor of the State in the impending crisis, and for the further purpose of authorizing the banks to suspend specie payments, to enable them to furnish greater facilities for moving the cotton crop, and thus relieve, to some extent, the embarrassed condition of the cotton market and the people. These appeals were made by those whose opinions are entitled to the highest respect, and are disconnected with the banks, either as directors or stockholders. After giving to the subject the fullest consideration, and viewing it in all its bearings, I determined not to convene the Legislature for reasons which I will now give.

I did not doubt, and do not now, that the Convention to meet on the 7th January, will determine that Alabama shall withdraw from the present Union at an early day.

Should this contingency occur, it will be necessary forthwith, to convene the Legislature to provide for whatever the action of the Convention may render necessary in the way of legislation. The imposition upon the State of the expense of the Convention, and two extra sessions of the Legislature at this time, when economy is a matter of the highest consideration, ought to be avoided if it could be done consistently with the public interests. If the Legislature could anticipate the action of the convention and provide for it, it would supersede the necessity of convening after the convention shall have acted ; but this would be impossible.

It was my opinion that if I issued a proclamation calling an extra session of the Legislature, every one would believe that the object in part, was to authorize the banks to suspend specie payments. This would have caused an immediate run upon them, and would in a great measure have exhausted their specie, and thus rendered them unable to aid the State in her emergency or relieve the people.

It appeared to me that these difficulties could be avoided, by the banks and myself assuming responsibilities, which never should be done under any other circumstances.

I considered it a matter of the utmost importance that the specie in the vaults of the banks, should be kept there, so far as it could be done, in order to aid the state in providing the means to sustain herself in the approaching crisis. It would be inexpedient, at such a time, to tax the people, and State bonds could ~~not~~ now be sold except at a great sacrifice. I considered it the duty of banks, upon whom extraordinary privileges had been conferred, to come to the aid of the State in her hour of need, and therefore determined to request them at the same time to suspend specie payments, and retain their specie for the benefit and security of the State, so far as might be necessary.

In this way, a run upon the banks would be avoided, and they would remain in a condition to relieve the State from immediately taxing her people, or selling bonds at a heavy discount ; and render unnecessary an extra session of the Legislature, before the meeting of the Convention.

The extension of relief to the people, in selling their cotton crops, would follow as an incident. In consideration of the premises I addressed to each of the banks a letter of which the following is a copy.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
MONTGOMERY, ALA., December 4th, 1860, }

To the President and Directors of the Central Bank of Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Gentlemen :

The peculiar and extraordinary state of public affairs and the interest of the State, make it a matter of State necessity to retain in the vaults of the banks all the gold and silver in their possession.

From present prospects, there can scarcely be a doubt that Alabama will secede from the Union before the 4th day of March next. Should that contingency occur, it will be necessary for the State to raise not less than a million of dollars in specie, or its equivalent. Under the circumstances, which surround us, we could not sell State bonds, either in the North or in Europe, except at a ruinous discount ; and it would be inexpedient to tax the people immediately for that purpose. How then can the State secure the money that may be necessary in her emergency ?

But one practicable plan now presents itself to my mind, and that is to call upon the banks of the state to come up to her aid. The course of events and the suspension of the South Carolina and Georgia Banks, will create more or less uneasiness in the minds of bill holders, and will induce many of them to draw the specie from the banks to the extent of the notes they may hold, and thus render the banks unable to aid the State, as they otherwise could do.

I am strongly urged from various parts of the State to convene the Legislature for the purpose of authorizing the banks to suspend specie payments, and thus enable them to retain their specie for the purposes suggested.

I have reflected much and anxiously upon the subject. I am satisfied were I to convene the Legislature for the purpose stated, that it would produce a run on the banks, and in a great measure exhaust their specie and defeat the object I have in view.

With the view then, of enabling the Banks to retain their specie for the purpose aforesaid, I deem it my duty under the circumstances, to advise and request them to suspend, all at the same time.

The high and patriotic motives which would induce the act, would sustain the banks and me. There can be no doubt that the Convention and Legislature soon to meet will sustain and legalize the act. I will sanction it, and will institute no proceedings, against them, and in my message to the Legislature and Convention will urge them to sanction the act, which I am sure they will do.

If need be, after the suspension, I will write an address to the people of the State, stating the facts and circumstances under which the step was taken. I am satisfied that the banks are in a sound condition and can maintain it through the present crisis; but it will render them unable to give the State that aid she will need.

I have written similar letters to all the banks. The contents of this communication are respectfully submitted to your consideration. Very Respectfully,

Your obedient servant.

A. B. MOORE.

At my suggestion and request, and for the purposes stated in my letter, the Commercial Bank at Selma, the Central Bank at Montgomery and the Eastern Bank at Eufaula suspends this day. It is due to those Banks that I should say (being advised of their condition) that they are able to sustain themselves through the crisis, and that they have taken this important step with the high and patriotic motive of sustaining the State, as shown by the response of each of them to my letter. Their letters are filed in my office, and would have been published but for the length they would give this communication.

There is no necessity for any depreciation of their notes as there can be no question of their solvency.

The circumstances under which they have suspended, should relieve them from any censure. If censure is to fall upon any one it should be upon me, and I rely for my justification upon the manifest propriety and necessity of the act, as well as the motives which induced it. The Bank of Mobile, and the Southern Bank of Alabama decline to suspend, but patriotically pledge themselves to raise their proportion of the amount suggested in my letter, should there be a necessity for it. These two banks being located in Mobile, can procure specie and exchange with more facility than the banks in the interior, and are not so liable to be prejudiced by the suspended banks of South Carolina and Georgia. Hence their ability to aid the State without suspending specie payments.

The Northern Bank at Huntsville also declines to suspend on account of peculiar circumstances which surround it.

I have now briefly stated the circumstances and facts, connected with the suspension of three of our banks, in accordance with the promise contained in my letter, and hope they will be satisfactory to the enlightened and patriotic people of Alabama, for whose benefit this great responsibility has been assumed.

A. B. MOORE.

I am authorized to say that the Banks are prepared to loan the State their proportionate share of one million dollars; should her necessities require it.

The Convention is aware that I have had Fort Morgan, Fort Gaines and Mount Vernon occupied by the troops of Alabama. My reason for this important step are briefly and plainly set forth in the following letter addressed to the President of the United States, as soon as I was officially informed that the Forts and Arsenal had been occupied.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 MONTGOMERY, ALA., January 4th, 1861. }

To His Excellency James Buchanan, President of the United States.

Sir :—In a spirit of frankness, I hasten to inform you by letter that by my order, Fort Morgan and Fort Gaines and the United States Arsenal at Mount Vernon were on yesterday peaceably occupied, and are now held by the troops of the State of Alabama. That this act on my part may not be misunderstood by the Government of the United States, I proceed to state the motives which have induced it and the reasons which justify it, and also the course of conduct with which I design to follow that act.

A Convention of the people of this State will, in pursuance of a previously enacted law, assemble on the 7th inst. I was fully convinced by the evidences which I had, that that convention would at an early day, in the exercise of an authority which in my judgment of right belongs to it, withdraw the State of Alabama from the Government of the United States, and place it in the attitude of a separate and independent power. Being thus convinced I deemed it my duty to take every precautionary step to make the secession of the State peaceful, and prevent detriment to her people. While entertaining such a conviction as to my duty, I received such information as left but little if any room to doubt that the Government of the United States, anticipating the secession of Alabama, and preparing to maintain its authority within this State by force, even to the shedding of the blood and the sacrifice of the lives of the people, was about to reinforce those forts, and put a guard over the Arsenal. Having that information, it was but an act of self-defence, and the plainest dictate of prudence to anticipate and guard against the contemplated movement of the authorities of the General Government. Appreciating, as I am sure you do, the courage and spirit of our people, you must be sensible that no attempt at the coercion of the State, or at the enforcement by military power of the authority of the United States within its jurisdiction, in contravention of the Ordinance of secession can be effectual, unless our utmost capacity for resistance can be exhausted. It would have been an unwise policy, suicidal in its character to have permitted the Government of the United States to have made undisturbed preparations within this State, to enforce; by war and bloodshed, an authority which it is the fixed purpose of the people of the State to resist to the uttermost of their power. A policy so manifestly unwise, would probably have been overruled by an excited and discontented people, and popular violence might have accomplished that, which has been done by the State much more appropriately and, much more consistently with the prospect of peace, and the interests of the parties concerned.

The purpose with which my order was given and has been executed, was to avoid and not to provoke hostilities between the State and Federal Government. There is no object save the honor and independence of my State, which is by me so ardently desired as the preservation of amicable relations between this State and the Government of the United States. That the secession of the State, made necessary by the conduct of others, may be peaceful is my prayer as well as the prayer of every patriotic man in the State.

An inventory of the property in the forts and Arsenal has been ordered, and the strictest care will be taken to prevent the injury or destruction of it, while peaceable relations continue to subsist, as I trust they will. The forts and Arsenal will be held by my order only for the precautionary purpose for which they were taken, and subject to the control of the Convention of the people to assemble on the 7th inst.

With distinguished consideration,

I am your obedient servant,

A. B. MOORE.

The Forts and Arsenal will be held subject to such instructions and directions as the Convention may think proper to give. Strict orders have been given the officers in command at the places mentioned to take an inventory of the arms and ammunitions and public stores and see that all are protected and preserved.

I am fully aware that in all I have done in regard to the matters herein communicated, I have taken great responsibilities. For my justification, I rely upon the propriety and necessity of the course I have taken, and upon the wisdom and patriotism of the Convention and people of Alabama. In this great and trying crisis, I have done all I could do to prepare the State for any emergency that might occur. The great and responsible duty of protecting the rights, interests and honor of Alabama is now imposed on the Convention; and I do not doubt that her present proud and high position will be maintained. May the God of Wisdom and justice guide you in your counsels.

Mr. Clemens moved that the communication and accompanying reports be printed, which was laid on the table temporarily.

On motion of Mr. Yancey, it was resolved that the State Printer shall be the Printer of this Convention on the same terms he receives as State Printer, and that he shall be sworn to secrecy.

Mr. Cochran introduced the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Governor of this State is requested and authorized to take such steps and adopt such measures as, in his judgment, may be necessary to protect the interests of the people of Alabama; and that his action in taking temporary possession of the forts and arsenal within the borders of Alabama is approved.

Resolved 2d, That to enable the Governor to carry out the objects of the preceding resolution, the sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated and placed at his disposal.

Mr. Yancey moved to strike out all after the word "Resolved," and insert,

That the Governor be instructed to accept the service of five hundred volunteers, to be placed under orders of the Governor of Florida, with a view to the taking possession of the forts at Pensacola, for the purpose of protecting the State of Alabama from invasion and coercion, during the deliberations of this Convention upon the question of resuming the sovereign powers of the people of Alabama; and that for this purpose ten thousand dollars be appropriated out of funds in the Treasury.

The amendment was accepted, as also the following amendment offered by Mr. Dargan :

Resolved, That the citizens of this State who have volunteered for the defence thereof, or who may volunteer as soldiers under the authority of our sister slaveholding States, for their defence against any hostile or coercing power, shall be protected by the power of this State against any proceeding which may be instituted against them by the Government of the United States on that account.

Mr. Kimball moved to refer the resolutions to the committee of thirteen.

During the pending of this motion, a communication was received from the Governor, which was read and ordered to lie on the table for the present :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, 8th January, 1861.

Hon. William M. Brooks, President of the Convention of the State of Alabama :

In reply to a verbal communication from the body over which you preside, made by one of its members, I make the following statement. My information in regard to Pensacola is that Governor Perry, of Florida, has informed me by despatch that he has ordered the forts to be occupied by the troops of Florida, and asks aid from Alabama.

The force at his command in West Florida is small, and not sufficient to take and maintain the forts. Troops from Alabama could reach that point before the troops of East and Middle Florida. This fact, with the importance of the position to Alabama as well as to Florida, induces him to make the request, as I am informed. It is believed at Washington, in South Carolina and Georgia, as I am advised from high sources, that it is not only the policy of the Federal Government to coerce the seceding States, but as soon as possible to put herself in position by reinforcing all the forts in the States where secession is expected. I need not suggest the danger to Florida and Alabama that must result from permitting a strong force to get possession of these forts.

With sentiments of high consideration and respect,

A. B. MOORE.

On motion of Mr. Yancey, the Door keeper was authorized to procure an assistant, to secure the doors until fastenings can be procured.

Mr. Morgan moved to amend Mr. Kimball's motion, and refer the resolution to a committee of five. Withdrawn.

Mr. Smith, of Tuscaloosa, moved to adjourn, but withdrew the motion at the request of Mr. Jemison, and the subject before the House was temporarily postponed to enable Mr. Jemison to offer the following resolutions, which were adopted :

Resolved, That the Secretary be authorized to procure the services of a competent person as Recording Secretary, who shall also act as Engrossing Clerk.

Resolved, That the regular hour of meeting of this Convention shall be 11 o'clock, a. m., until otherwise ordered.

Mr. Edwards moved to adjourn. Lost.

Mr. Watts moved to amend Mr. Kimball's motion, and refer the resolutions to a committee of seven, to report at 8 o'clock this evening.

Mr. Whitlock moved to adjourn until 11 o'clock to-morrow. Lost.

Mr. Watts asked leave to withdraw his motion to refer to a committee of seven. Objection was made, and

Mr. Cochran Moved that Mr. Watts have leave to withdraw his motion. Granted, and the motion was withdrawn.

Mr. Kimball withdrew his motion, but afterwards renewed it, and it was lost.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., }
January 9th, 1861. }

Mr. Yancey offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the following committees, to consist of seven members, be appointed by the President:

1. Committee on Printing.
2. Committee on Enrollment.
3. Committee on Credentials.

Mr. Bulger introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which, on his motion, were referred to the committee:

Whereas, Anti-slavery agitation persistently continued in the nonslaveholding States of this Union, for a long series of years, and in the late election was triumphant in the election of a President who sympathises with the enemy of domestic, or African slavery, thereby rendering our property and our institutions insecure, and

Whereas, We have been summoned together in Convention to consider, determine, and do whatever in the opinion of the said Convention the rights interests and honor of the State of Alabama require to be done for their protection. And

Whereas, This Convention, taking into consideration the actual situation of the country, as well as reflecting on the alarming circumstances by which we are surrounded, can no longer doubt that the crisis is arrived at which the conservative men of the United States are to decide the solemn question, whether they will be wise, and with magnanimous efforts secure and perpetuate the blessings of a Union consecrated by the common blood of our fathers, or whether by giving way to unmanly jealousies and prejudices, or to partial and transitory interest, they will renounce the auspicious blessings prepared for them by their revolutionary fathers, and furnish to the enemies of free government an eventual triumph. And

Whereas, The same noble and extended policy, and the same paternal and affectionate sentiment which originally determined the citizens of the independent colonies to form a Confederation, and the people of the States afterwards to form a more perfect Union, cannot but be felt with equal force now as motives to lay aside every inferior consideration, and to concur in such further provisions as may be found necessary to secure every section of our vast country in all their just rights and throw around the weaker portion, (the Southern States,) such guarantees as will enable them to rest securely in the Union, and restore peace and quiet to the country.

Therefore be it Resolved, That separate State secession in the present emergency, is unwise and impolitic, and Alabama will not secede without first making an effort to secure the co-operation of the Southern States.

Resolved 2d, That this Convention invites each of the Southern (or slaveholding) States to meet the State of Alabama in a Convention of delegates equal in number to their several Representatives in the Congress of the United States, at _____ on the _____ day of _____ for the purpose of consideration and agreement as to the wrongs that we suffer in the Union, and the dangers that we are threatened with, and determining what relief we will demand for the present and security for the future, and what remedy we will apply if our just demands are not complied with.

Resolved 3d. That the President of this Convention be requested forthwith to forwarn by the most speedy conveyance, a copy of this preamble and resolutions to the Governors of the several Southern States with a request that they give them such direction as will be most likely to secure the object desired, to-wit: The co-operation of all the Southern States in securing their rights in the Union, or establishing their independence out it.

Mr. Baker, of Russell, introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Governor of this State be respectfully requested to furnish this Convention with the following information.

1. The number of arms? the character or discription of them, which he has purchased for the State by virtue of an act of the last Legislature appropriating two hundred thousand dollars for that purpose, and the price paid for each description of arms.

2. What amount of that fund has been expended in the purchase of these arms, and the necessary expenses attending the same.

3. How many of these arms are now on hand and how many have been distributed?

4. And any other information connected with the number and character of arms which are under his control.

Mr. Jemison offered the following amendment, which was accepted :

Resolved, That he further communicate how many military companies are now in the service of the State, when each entered said service and the number of each company, and the particular service in which each is engaged.

Mr. Yancey proposed the following amendment, which was also accepted.

And the amount of ordnance owned by the State, and its character, and what ammunition and military stores of all descriptions is now owned by the State.

And also, information as to the amount and character of the property of the United States, and other property found in Forts Morgan and Gaines and in the Arsenal at Mount Vernon, now in possession of the State.

Mr. Coleman offered the following amendment, which was accepted, and the entire resolutions were then adopted :

Resolved, That the information herein requested shall be read only in secret session.

Mr. Baker of Russell, introduced the following resolution which was adopted :

Resolved, That the Treasurer of this State be respectfully requested to furnish this Convention with such information as will enable this body to ascertain the amount of money and other available assets now in the State Treasury which has not been appropriated, as well as the characters and description of the same.

Mr. Coleman introduced the following resolution :

Resolved, By the people of the State of Alabama in Convention assembled, that they pledge the power of this State to aid in resisting any attempt upon the part of the Government of the United States of America to invade or coerce any of the seceding States.

Mr. Davis of Madison moved to refer the resolution to the Committee of thirteen.

After discussion, Mr. Davis withdrew his motion.

Mr. Bragg moved to refer the resolution to the Committee of five, of which Mr. Jemison is chairman, with instructions to report to-morrow morning on the assembling of the Convention.

W. L. YANCEY,
Chairman.

MAJORITY REPORT.

An Ordinance to dissolve the Union between the State of Alabama and other States united under the compact styled "The Constitution of the United States of America."

WHEREAS, the election of Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin to the offices of President and Vice President of the United States of America, by a sectional party, avowedly hostile to the domestic institutions and to the peace and security of the people of the State of Alabama, preceded by many and dangerous infractions of the Constitution of the United States by many of the States and people of the Northern section, is a political wrong of so insulting and menacing a character as to justify the people of the State of Alabama in the adoption of prompt and decided measures for their future peace and security; therefore,

Be it declared and ordained by the people of the State of Alabama, in Convention assembled, That the State of Alabama now withdraws, and is hereby withdrawn, from the Union known as "the United States of America," and henceforth ceases to be one of said United States, and is, and of right ought to be, a Sovereign and Independent State.

SEC. 2. Be it further declared and ordained by the people of the State of Alabama, in Convention assembled, That all the powers over the Territory of said State, and of the people thereof, heretofore delegated to the Government of the United States of America, be, and they are hereby, withdrawn from said Government, and are hereby resumed and vested in the people of the State of Alabama.

And, as it is the desire and purpose of the people of Alabama to meet the slaveholding States of the South, who may approve such purpose, in order to frame a provisional as well as permanent Government upon the principles of the Constitution of the United States,

Be it resolved by the people of Alabama, in Convention assembled, That the people of the States of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri, be, and are hereby, invited to meet the people of the State of Alabama, by their Delegates, in Convention, on the 4th day of February, A. D., 1861, at the city of Montgomery, in the State of Alabama, for the purpose of consulting with each other as to the most effectual mode of securing concerted and harmonious action in whatever measures may be deemed most desirable for our common peace and security.

And be it further resolved, That the President of this Convention be, and is hereby, instructed to transmit forthwith a copy of the foregoing Preamble, Ordinance and Resolutions to the Governors of the several States named in said resolutions.

Done by the people of the State of Alabama, in Convention assembled, at Montgomery, on this, the eleventh day of January, A. D. 1861.

MINORITY REPORT.

Mr. Clemens, from the minority of the same Committee, made a report with resolutions, as follows:

The undersigned, a minority of the Committee of Thirteen, to whom was referred all matters touching the proper mode of resistance to be adopted by the State of Alabama, in the present emergency, beg leave to present the following

REPORT :

Looking to harmony of action among our own people as desirable above all other things, we have been earnestly desirous of concurring with the majority in the line of policy marked out by them, but after the most careful consideration we have been unable to see in Separate State Secession the most effectual mode of guarding our honor and securing our rights. Without entering into any argument upon the nature and amount of our grievances, or any speculations as to the probability of obtaining redress and security in the Union, but looking alone to the most effectual mode of resistance, it seems to us that this great object is best to be attained by the concurrent and concerted action of all the States interested, and that it becomes us to make the effort to obtain that concurrence, before deciding finally and conclusively upon our own policy.

We are further of opinion that, in a matter of this importance, vitally affecting the property, the lives and the liberties of the whole people, sound policy dictates that an ordinance of secession should be submitted for their ratification and approval. To that end, the resolutions which accompany this report have been prepared and are now submitted to the Convention.

The undersigned purposely refrain from a detailed statement of the reasons which have brought them to the conclusions at which they have arrived. The action proposed by the majority of the Committee is, in its nature, final and conclusive—there is no chance for rehearing or revision; and we feel no disposition to submit an argument, whose only effect will be to create discontent, and throw difficulties in the way of a policy, the adoption of which we are powerless to prevent. In submitting our own plan, and using all fair and honorable means to secure its acceptance, our duty is fully discharged—to insist upon objections when they can have no effect but to excite dissatisfaction among the people, is alike foreign to our feelings and to our conceptions of patriotic duty.

The resolutions herein before referred to, are prayed to be taken as part of this Report, and the whole is herewith respectfully submitted.

JERE. CHEMAENS,
DAVID P. LEWIS,
WM. O. WINSTON,
A. KIMBAL,
R. S. WATKINS,
R. JEMISON, JR.

WHEREAS, repeated infractions of the Constitution of the United States by the people and States of the Northern section of the Confederacy have been followed by the election of sectional candidates by a strictly sectional vote, to the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States, upon a platform of principles insulting and menacing to the Southern States; and whereas, it becomes a free people to watch with jealous vigilance, and resist with manly firmness every attempt to subvert the free and equal principles upon which our Government was originally founded, and ought alone to be maintained; therefore,

Be it resolved by the people of Alabama, in Convention assembled, That the States of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri, be, and they are hereby, requested to meet us in general Convention in the city of Nashville, in the State of Tennessee, on the 22d day of February, 1861, for the purpose of taking into consideration the wrongs of which we have cause to complain—the appropriate remedy therefor, and the time and manner of its application.

Be it further resolved, That the State of Alabama shall be represented in said Convention by nine delegates, one to be selected from each Congressional district, and two from the State at large, in such manner as shall hereafter be directed and provided for by this Convention.

Be it further resolved, That our delegates selected shall be instructed to submit to the general Convention the following basis of a settlement of the existing difficulties between the Northern and the Southern States, to-wit :

1. A faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, and a repeal of all State laws calculated to impair its efficacy.
2. A more stringent and explicit provision for the surrender of criminals charged with offences against the laws of one State and escaping into another.
3. A guarantee that slavery shall not be abolished in the District of Columbia, or in any other place over which Congress has exclusive jurisdiction.
4. A guarantee that the inter-state slave trade shall not be interfered with.
5. Protection to slavery in the Territories, while they are Territories, and a guarantee that when they ask for admission as States they shall be admitted into the Union with or without slavery as their constitutions may prescribe.
6. The right of transit through free States with slave property.
7. The foregoing clauses to be irrevocable by amendments to the Constitution.

Be it further resolved, That the basis of settlement prescribed in the foregoing resolution shall not be regarded by our delegates as absolute and unalterable, but as an indication of the opinion of this Convention, to which they are expected to conform as nearly as may be, holding themselves, however, at liberty to accept any better plan of adjustment which may be insisted upon by a majority of the slaveholding States.

Be it further resolved, That if the foregoing proposition for a conference is refused, or rejected, by any or all of the States to which it is addressed, Alabama, in that event, will hold herself at liberty, alone, or in conjunction with such States as may agree to unite with her, to adopt such plan of resistance, and mature such measures, as in her judgment may seem best calculated to maintain the honor and secure the rights of her citizens ; and in the meantime we will resist, by all means at our command, any attempt on the part of the General Government to coerce a seceding State.

Be it further resolved, That the President of this Convention be instructed to transmit copies of the foregoing preamble and resolutions to the Governors of each of the States therein named.

And also the following resolution from the same :

Be it resolved by the people of Alabama, in Convention assembled, That an ordinance of secession from the United States is an act of such great importance, involving consequences so vitally affecting the lives, liberty and property of the citizens of the seceding State, as well as the States by which it is surrounded, and with which it has heretofore been united, that in our opinion it should never be attempted until after the most thorough investigation and discussion, and then only after a full and free ratification at the polls by a direct vote of the people, at an election held under the forms and safeguards of the law in which that single issue, untrammelled and undisguised in any manner whatever, should alone be submitted.

And, on motion by Mr. Clemens, the minority report was laid on the table, and the report of the majority taken up.

In accordance with the request of the Committee of Thirteen,

L. P. WALKER.

By telegraph from Mobile, January 12th, to Gov. A. B. Moore.

We have received, by special messenger, the following communication from the proper authorities of New Orleans, and submit it at once to you.

THOS. J. BUTLER,
C. ROBINSON.

To Gen. T. J. Butler :

It is desirable that, if practicable, an understanding may be arrived at, which the flag officers and the other commanders of the home squadron, now for the most part concentrated at Vera Cruz, (the flag officer, and it is believed a majority of the officers of the fleet, are Southerners.) A distinguished gentleman, well and favorably known to these officers, will leave here for Vera Cruz on the 15th inst., and it is thought that should he be able to bear with him satisfactory assurances of support and protection to them by the seceding States, in the event of bringing their squadron into Southern ports and pronouncing for us, there is a probability that when they have to make the choice of their allegiance, they will stand by us. A communication on the subject will be sent to-night to the Governor of Mississippi, asking a conference in this city for say Thursday next, and we should very much like to have Alabama present also, to take part in its deliberations and resolves.

A communication from his Excellency the Governor in answer to resolutions of enquiry from the Convention, was received and read as follows, and ordered to lie on the table.:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. }
MONTGOMERY ALA., Jan. 10th. 1861. }

Hon. Wm. M. Brooks, President State Convention.

Resolutions adopted by the Convention, requesting me to furnish that body with information in regard to the arms, &c., purchased for the State, by virtue of an Act of the Legislature, appropriating two hundred thousand dollars for that purpose, &c., were handed me this day by the Secretary of the Convention.

I submit the following statement in answer to the first resolution.

I have purchased under said Act, nine thousand three hundred and twenty-two arms of the following character and description, and at the prices stated.

300	Adams Revolvers at $16,	@	$4,800,00
1400	Colt's Revolvers at $18.	@	20,520,00
400	Colt's Cavalry Carbines at $30.	@	12,000,00
150	Smith's Cavalry Carbines, at $20.	@	3,750,00
3500	United States Muskets, at $2.50.	@	8,750,00
	Minnie Muskets, balls and moulds.		19,275,85
840	Mississippi Rifles, at $9.	@	7,560,00
80	Mississippi Rifles with Sword Bayonets and accoutrements.		2,024,00
1400	Sabres and belts at $8.50.	@	11,900,00
10	Six pounder Rifled brass Cannon.
2	Long Columbiad guns.

(Quarter Master Genl. R. T. Thom has the contracts with him at the North.) Cannot therefore state the prices of Cannon and Columbiad guns.

I have also purchased out of said funds.:

1,500,000 Caps, at 95c. per thousand.		$1,425,00
1900 Powder Flasks, at $1.	@	1,900,00
200 Kegs Powder, 100,000 lbs. lead.		2,082,00
500 " " 10,000		3,952,00
Arms and accoutrements for Military Institutes.		1,899,13
Items of Expenses in purchasing Arms.		1,500,50

The above statement may not be strictly accurate, resulting from the absence of the Quarter Master General, but may vary a little in regard to some of the items.

In answer to the second Resolution, I state that in the purchase of the above described arms, ammunition, &c., there has been paid out $91,470,98. Some of the items purchased have not arrived, and have not therefore been paid for. My estimate is, that $30,000 will cover the cost of the cannon, carriages and other arms contracted for and not arrived, most of which are daily expected.

In answer to the third Resolution, I state that there are about seventy-five companies furnished with arms. Exact number cannot be ascertained, as the Quarter Master General is absent at this time. Some of his papers, necessary to show this fact, are locked up, and his assistant has no access to them. I cannot state the exact number of arms, but about five thousand are still on hand, of the purchases made by me.

In answer to the fourth resolution, I state, (supposing it to refer to the arms under the control of the State, in the United States Arsenal at Mount Vernon,) that there are twenty thousand muskets, two thousand rifles, and one hundred and fifty thousand pounds of powder, as I am informed by Col. Ledbetter, the officer in command when the Arsenal was taken.

In answer to the fifth resolution, I state that there are one hundred organized Volunteer Companies, under the provisions of the act of the last General Assembly. The number of Volunteer Companies outside of this organization, is not certainly known to me, but suppose there are about twenty. All of these are armed and equipped as I am informed,—either by themselves, or by arms distributed from those received from the Federal Government. I cannot state the exact number of companies in the actual service of the State. Five hundred men have been ordered to Pensacola, under a resolution of the Convention, but the number of companies into which they have been divided, has not yet been reported to me. Eight companies of the first Volunteer Regiment, were ordered into service on the — day of January 1861—Two were ordered to Fort Morgan, two to Fort Gaines, and four to Mount Vernon, and all remained in service two days, when four of them were discharged. Afterwards, on the — day of January 1861, two companies more were ordered to Fort Morgan, and are still in service. On the 8th inst, in view of the threatening aspect of affairs as to said Forts, one company from Montgomery, two from Selma, one from Greensboro' and one from Tuscaloosa, were ordered forthwith to report themselves to Col. Todd at Mobile, for service in the forts. The number of men in each company cannot be stated, until they report themselves to Col. Todd for service. They will probably average about fifty men each.

In answer to the sixth resolution, I state that there are about twenty pieces of ordnance owned by the State. Six or eight of these are twelve pounders, the balance are six pounders. These do not include the ten rifled cannon and two columbiad guns recently purchased.

To the Seventh resolution, I state that I am informed by Col. Ledbetter, that there are one hundred pieces of ordnance at Fort Morgan, consisting of thirty-two and twenty-four pounders. There is also in this Fort a supply of balls and powder. No arms or ordnance of any description at Fort Gaines, unless placed there by our troops, since the Fort was taken. I have already answered as to Mount Vernon. I have no information as to other public property in Forts or Arsenal.

Deducting the $91,470,98, already taken from the $2,000,000, appropriation, and the further sum of $30,000, for the payment of arms purchased and not received, would leave the sum of $78, 529,02 to the credit of the Military fund. From this sum is to be deducted the sum of $10, 000, which the Convention appropriated by resolution, and the sum of $2,500, drawn for the support of troops at the Forts and Arsenal, previous to the meeting of the Convention.

Alter deducting all these amounts, there remains to the credit of the military fund, unexpended, the sum of 66, 029,02.

Very Respectfully, *

A. B. MOORE.

Mr. Shortridge introduced a resolution of inquiry of the Governor, which by leave he withdrew for modification.

Naval Officers at Vera Cruz, the Governor be authorized to take such course as he may deem best calculated to promote the interest of the State, and that the Governor authorize the Commissioner to assure the Commanding Officers of the Fleet, the support and protection of the State of Alabama.

Mr. Henderson of Macon offered the following resolution which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations :

A communication from the Governor was received and read, with reference to affairs at Pensacola, as follows :

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
12th Jan. 1861. }

Hon. Wm. M. Brooks, President State Convention.

Sir :

The following resolution passed by the Convention, has just been handed me by the Secretary of that body. "Resolved, That the Governor be requested to communicate to the Convention any information he may have as to the condition of Military operations near Pensacola." I regret that it becomes my duty to inform the Convention, that the Federal Troops have deserted the Navy Yard and Fort Barancas, and now occupy Fort Pickens, with about eighty men. The guns were spiked at Barancas and the Navy Yard, and Public Stores removed to Fort Pickens. This Fort commands the bay, Fort Barancas and the Navy Yard, and can only be taken by an effective force, and by bold and skilful movements.

Fort Pickens was garrisoned on Wednesday night. Col. Lomax left Montgomery on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, with two hundred and seventy-five men, and arrived at Pensacola last night at 10 o'clock. The three hundred troops ordered from Mobile to the same point, under the resolution of the Convention, were telegraphed when about to sail for Pensacola, by Major Chase in command at Pensacola, to remain in Mobile, until the receipt of further orders.

The Gov. of Mississippi has ordered troops at my suggestion, to Pensacola. They will halt at Mobile I presume, until ordered to sail for Pensacola.

This is all the information I can give at this time. I expect a messenger to-night with full information.

Very Respectfully,

A. B. MOORE.

Mr. Coleman offered the following :

Resolved, That the Committee of Military Affairs be instructed to enquire into the expediency of establishing manufactories of munitions of war, of every description, and, if found expedient, to report ordinances for the establishment thereof.

Mr. Shortridge moved to amend, by adding as follows :

Resolved, That the Military Committee inquire into the expediency of establishing at some central and convenient point, an Armory, for the use of the State, with instructions to report by ordinances or otherwise.

The amendment was adopted, and the resolution referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

On motion of Mr. Watts, the Convention adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

See the Governor about appointing a Collector for this port. Mr. Sanford is the proper person, and the Governor ought to send him a commission at once. The report of the ~~Committee~~ on Postal Arrangements was taken up.

By leave Mr. Morgan made a slight change in the wording of the report.

On motion by Mr. Bragg, the report and accompanying ordinance were adopted, as follows :

The Committee on Postal Arrangements have instructed me to report :

That the system of postal arrangements established by the Government of the United States, and extended to the several States and to Foreign Governments, cannot be at once disturbed by this State, without producing much inconvenience to the people, and injury to our citizens, and those of other States holding contracts relating to postal affairs with said Government.

The time that will probably intervene before a Southern Confederacy is established, would not be sufficient to enable this State to completely organize the proper mail department within its borders. and to secure, by treaties or conventions, a sure and regular mail communication with and through the neighboring States.

A permission, to carry out existing mail arrangements, extending to the citizens of this and other States who hold contracts for mail transportation to this State and within its borders, or from this to other States and countries, and ensuring also to the convenience and advantage of the United States Government, may be continued to them without admitting to any extent the authority or jurisdiction of said Government in any respect.

The faith and credit of this State should be pledged to persons holding contracts or appointments for mail service within the State, that they shall be secured against loss after they have faithfully performed such service, from the 11th January, 1861, to such time as the State shall dispense with such service. But the mutual advantages of mail facilities to this State and to our sister Southern States, and to the Government of the United States, are such as to impress your committee with the belief that the Government of the United States will continue the postal system, under the contracts, regulations and arrangements of force on the 11th January, 1861, at least until such contracts expire. Therefore, the revenues from the post offices within this State should not be demanded or received by the State until such time as it becomes manifest that the Government of the United States will not, in good faith, apply such revenues to the purpose of keeping up the existing mail arrangements.

In the event that any such indications of bad faith should appear, it will be competent for the Legislature of this State to provide for the emergency.

The whole subject of postal affairs will devolve upon the proposed Southern Confederacy, should Alabama enter the same on the basis proposed in the resolutions accompanying the Ordinance of Secession, adopted on the 11th day of January, 1861; and, therefore, all action taken on that subject by this State ought to be provisional.

We therefore unanimously recommend the adoption of the following Ordinance, with the accompanying resolution:

An Ordinance to make Provisional Postal Arrangements in Alabama.

Be it ordained by the people of Alabama, in Convention assembled, That the postal contracts, arrangements and regulations in force on the 11th day of January, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-one, are permitted to be continued, and the persons charged with the duties thereof are permitted to continue to discharge such duties until a postal treaty or treaties shall be concluded, or until otherwise ordered or provided by the authority of this State.

Resolved, That two thousand five hundred copies of the "Ordinance to make Provisional Postal arrangements in Alabama," be printed, together with the report of the Committee on Postal Arrangements, and that a copy of the Ordinance be sent to the Governor of each State of the former Union, and to the Postmaster General.

Mr. Humphries offered the following resolution, which on motion was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary and Internal Relations.

CALL OF COMMITTEES.

The regular call of Committees was resumed from yesterday.

Mr. Bragg, from the Committee on Imposts and Duties, made the following report with accompanying resolutions :

The Committee on Imposts and Duties, to whom was referred the communication of his Excellency the Governor, transmitting to the Convention a telegraphic dispatch from Thadeus Sanford, the Collector of the Port at Mobile, to the effect that a draft, dated January 7th, 1861, for the sum of Twenty-six Thousand Dollars drawn on his office by the Treasury Department of the Government of the United States, and asking to be instructed whether he should pay the same have had the same under consideration and ask leave to report.

That it appears from the dispatch that the said draft was drawn on the 7th of January inst., a date anterior to the passing of the ordinance withdrawing Alabama from the Federal Union. The draft is in favor of the United States Navy Agent at Pensacola, and the object of it is stated to be, to pay certain merchants and mechanics in Pensacola for goods furnished and labor performed for the United States, and certain other merchants in the city of Mobile for supplies furnished by them to the same Government.

In annulling the office of Collector at the Port of Mobile as a United States office, and reclaiming that port as embraced within the jurisdiction of, and appertaining to the State of Alabama, in her sovereign capacity, this Convention in its Ordinance passed to effect that object, imposed upon the Collector thereby appointed as an officer of the State, the duty of retaining in his hands, until the further order of the Convention, all such money as might be in his possession at the date of the passing of the said ordinance.

Under the circumstances by which the Convention was surrounded, it was deemed advisable to pursue such a course, not with a view of laying violent hands upon funds in the possession of an officer of the United States, but simply as a measure of self-protection, and with the purpose of facilitating a fair settlement of the various complicated questions that must necessarily arise in the future between the Government from which she had withdrawn, and the State of Alabama.

From the date of this draft, it will be seen, that it was drawn before the passing of the Ordinance requiring the Collector to retain such funds in his hands, as well as before the Ordinance of Secession. It will also be seen, that it was drawn for certain purposes involving the interests of third parties, who seem to be interposed in such manner as to take from the case the simple features of a question between the Government of the United States and the State of Alabama. Those parties performed services for, and furnished goods and supplies for the Government of the United States, previous to the withdrawal of Alabama from the Union. There was an obligation imposed on that Government of which Alabama was then a constituent part, to pay for this labor and these supplies ; and it seems to your Committee, that every principle of good faith and an honest desire to preserve inviolate the sanctity of contracts, require that these parties should be paid their just dues. The best way to secure justice to ourselves is to do justice to others. But it may be said, why not retain this money and remit these parties to the Government of the United States to be paid out of other funds in the Treasury of that Government? The answer is, that this is the fund out of which such obligations as arise at the points indicated, (Pensacola and Mobile,) are accustomed to be paid, and to which the parties no doubt looked, when the supplies were furnished and the labor performed. To send these parties back now to the Government of the United States for payment, when the monetary affairs of the country are in such a condition that men of the amplest means and largest credit are scarcely able to sustain themselves ; to require them to rely on the crippled Treasury of a mere fragmentary Government for payment, when the obligation was incurred when that Government was a whole, and when such a course would amount to an indefinite postponement of payment, seems to your Committee to involve the grossest injustice to these parties, as well as a departure from the manifest policy that should govern the action of this Convention in its relations with the Government of the United States as well as our own people.

The Committee have accordingly instructed me to report to the Convention the following resolution, and ask its adoption.

Resolved, That in response to the dispatch received from T. Sanford, Collector at the Port of Mobile, in reference to a United States Treasury draft bearing date the 7th January, 1861, drawn on his office for the sum of twenty-six thousand dollars, the Governor be authorized to inform him that it is the sense of this Convention that he pay the same.

The Committee on the Judiciary and Internal Affairs, to whom was referred "an Ordinance in relation to the Public Lands," have instructed me to report back said ordinance, with the recommendation that it be referred to a special committee of seven persons, selected with a view to their knowledge of such matters. That with the accumulating business of this Committee, they have no time to get the information and make the investigations requisite to a proper understanding of the complicated matters invoked in the ordinance. And this committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.—The resolution of inquiry referred to this committee, touching the same matters, they have instructed to report back, and have instructed me to report the accompanying resolution covering the matters in the said ordinance and resolution referred to:

Resolved, That a committee composed of seven delegates be appointed by the President of this Convention, to take into consideration all questions touching the Public Lands within the State of Alabama.

Respectfully submitted.

Mr. Jemison arose to a point of order, that the substitute was not in order. The Chair overruled the point.

And the report and resolutions were adopted as follows :

REPORT AND RESOLUTIONS,

FROM THE COMMITTEE OF THIRTEEN, UPON THE FORMATION OF A PROVISIONAL AND PERMANENT GOVERNMENT BETWEEN THE SECEDING STATES.

The Committee of Thirteen, beg leave to report that they have had under consideration the “Report and resolutions from the Committee on relations with the Slaveholding States,” providing for the formation of a Provisional and Permanent Government by the seceding States, adopted by the people of the State of South Carolina, in Convention, on the 31st December, 1860, and submitted to this body by the Hon. A. P. Calhoun, Commissioner from South Carolina—which report and resolutions were referred to this Committee.

They have also had under consideration the resolutions upon the same subject, referred to them, which were submitted by the delegates from Barbour and from Tallapoosa. All of these resolutions contemplate the purpose of forming confederate relations with such of our sister States of the South as may desire to do so. The only disagreement between them is, as to the details in effecting that object. The Committee unanimously concur in the purpose and plan proposed by the Convention of the people of South Carolina. In the opinion of the Committee, there has never been any hostility felt by any portion of the people of Alabama against the Constitution of the United States of America. The wide-spread dissatisfaction of the people of this State, which has finally induced them to dissolve the Union styled the United States of America, has been with the conduct of the people and legislatures of the Northern States setting at naught one of the plainest provisions of the Federal compact, and with other dangerous misinterpretation of that instrument, leading them to believe that the Northern people design, by their numerical majority, acting through the forms of government, ultimately to destroy many of our most valuable rights.

With the people of South Carolina, we believe that the Federal Constitution "presents a complete scheme of confederation, capable of being speedily put into operation;" that its provisions and true import are familiar to the people of the South, "many of whom are believed to cherish a degree of veneration for it, and that all "would feel safe under it, when in their own hands for interpretation and administration, especially as the portions that have been, by perversion, made potent for mischief and oppression in the hands of adverse and inimical interests, have received a settled construction by the South; that a speedy confederation by the South is desirable in the highest degree, which it is supposed must be temporary, at first, (if accomplished as soon as it should be,) and no better basis than the Constitution of the United States is likely to be suggested or adopted." This Convention, in the resolutions accompanying the Ordinance dissolving the Union, has already responded to the invitation of the people of South Carolina to meet them in Convention for the purposes indicated in their resolutions, and have named Montgomery, in this State, and the 4th day of February, as the appropriate place and time at which to meet. In fixing the time and place, this Convention but concurred in the suggestions of the honorable gentleman representing the people of South Carolina before this body. We are aware that several of our sister States, which have indicated a disposition to secede from the Union, and have called Conventions of their people, may not be able to meet us at so early a day; but the great importance to the States which have already seceded, and which are likely to secede by that date, of having a common government to manage their federal and foreign affairs in the emergency now pressing upon them, outweighed, in the opinion of the Committee, the considerations which suggested delay. The Committee more readily came to this conclusion, as the Convention which will meet on the 4th of February will at first be engaged in the formation of a Provisional Government, leaving the more important question of a Permanent Government to be considered of at a later day; by which time it is hoped and believed that all the Southern States will be in a condition to send deputies to the Convention, and participate in its councils. It was thought also that the proposition to form the Provisional Government upon the basis of the Federal Constitution, so much revered by all the Southern States, would meet with the approval of all those which may secede. The Committee are also of opinion that the election of the deputies to meet the people of our sister States in Convention, should be made by the Convention. To submit the election to the people would involve a dangerous delay, and it would be impracticable to secure an election by the people before the 4th of February next.

The Committee, therefore, recommend to the Convention the adoption of the following resolutions, viz :

Resolved, That this Convention cordially approve of the suggestions of the Convention of the people of South Carolina to meet them in Convention on the 4th day of February, 1861, in the city of Montgomery, to frame a Provisional Government, upon the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and also to prepare a plan for the creation and establishment of a Permanent Government for the seceding States, upon the same principle, which plan shall be submitted to the Conventions of such States for adoption or rejection.

Resolved, That we approve of the suggestion that each State shall send to said Convention as many deputies as it now has, or has lately had, Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States; and that each State shall have one vote upon all questions upon which a vote may be taken in said Convention.

Resolved, therefore, That this Convention will proceed to elect by ballot one deputy from each Congressional district in this State, and two deputies from the State at large, at 12 o'clock, meridian, on Friday, the 18th of January, instant, who shall be authorized to meet in Convention such deputies as may be appointed by the other Slaveholding States who may secede from the Federal Union, for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing and the resolutions attached to the Ordinance dissolving the Union; and that the deputies shall be elected separately, and each deputy shall receive a majority of the members voting.

And, on motion, the Convention adjourned until to-morrow 10 o'clock.

OPEN SESSION.

MONTGOMERY ALA., January 22, 1861.

The President called the Convention to order at 10 A. M.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. McDonald.

Journals of yesterday read and approved.

CALL OF COMMITTEES :

Mr. Bragg, from the Committee on Imposts and Duties, reported a supplemental ordinance in reference to the Mobile customhouse, which on motion of Mr. Clemens was referred to the Committee on Printing, with instructions to print two hundred copies, and the ordinance was made the special order for to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Bragg, from the same, to whom was referred a communication from the Governor touching the Mobile customhouse, etc., asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the same, which was agreed to.

Mr. Dargan, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported as follows:

Your committee, to whom were referred certain resolutions adopted by many of the Southern Senators and members of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, have had the same under consideration. They believe that the ordinance of secession adopted by the Convention of the people of the State of Alabama severs completely all connections between the State of Alabama and the Government of the United States; that the State of Alabama is no longer entitled to, and ought not to be represented in the Congress of the United States. Therefore, they have instructed me to report the following resolution:

Resolved, That our Senators and members of Congress of the Government of the United States at Washington City be informed that the State of Alabama can no longer be represented in the Congress of the United States as one of said United States.

The President overruled the point of order, for that, if it were well taken in the opinion of the Chair the time had been permitted to pass when it might have been made, the Convention having already entertained and taken action on the subject matter.

An appeal was taken from the decision of the Chair, and it was sustained.

Mr. Blue moved to lay the whole matter on the table, but at the request of Mr. Watts, and an intimation of a desire to reply to argument, withdrew his motion.

But it is the opinion of your Committee, that such trade ought to be prohibited, and by way of expressing such opinion, and to provide in the meantime, against the opening of such trade, the Committee have instructed me to report the following Ordinance upon the subject, and to ask that the same be adopted by this Convention.

The resolution as amended and now agreed upon, read :

Whereas, The navigation of the Mississippi river is a question in which several Northern States and Southern States yet in the Federal Union, are deeply interested ;

and whereas the people of the State of Louisiana are about to consider of the propriety of seceding from said Union; and whereas, this is a subject which will properly come under the consideration of the Convention of seceding States to meet on the fourth day of February—

Be it resolved, That it is the deliberate sense of this Convention that the navigation of the Mississippi river, to the people of the States and Territories of the Federal Union upon it and its tributaries, should remain free, and that no restriction upon this privilege should be made, further than may be necessary for tonnage duties to keep open and make safe the navigation of the mouth of said river, and for purposes of protection against a belligerent and unfriendly people.

The question being now upon the adoption of the resolution as amended, it was adopted.

Consideration of the special order, the ordinance “to prohibit the African slave trade,” upon motion, informally passed over.

Mr. Coleman called up his resolutions offered heretofore, on the 12th January 1861, as follows:

Resolved by the people of the State of Alabama in Convention assembled, That they pledge the power of this State to aid in resisting any attempt upon the part of the Government of the United States of America to invade or coerce any of the seceding States.

The Convention thereupon took a recess, and repaired to the front steps of the Capitol and assisted in the demonstrations according to the programme arranged by the Joint Committee.

Mr. Posey offered an amendment. Amend the second resolution by adding to the same the words, "not below the grades affecting."

Mr. Webb raised the point offered, stating it to be that the question was upon concurring upon report, and not upon adoption.

The chair remarked that it was substantially the same thing, whatever the technical rule might be, and overruled the point of order and permitted amendment to be offered.

Mr. Jones of Lauderdale offered the following as an amendment:

Resolved, That it is the will of the people of Alabama that the deputies elected by this convention to the Southern Convention, to meet at the city of Montgomery, on the 4th day of February next, to form a Southern Republic, be and they are hereby instructed to insist on the enactment, by said convention, of such restrictions as will effectually prevent the importation of slaves into such Republic from any other place or country other than the slaveholding States of the late United States of America.

Mr. Yancey raised a point of order, and stated it thus: The amendment is incongruous, because the subject matter reported by the committee is an ordinance to be the supreme law of the land; the amendment is a resolution of instruction. Sustained.

Mr. Jones then offered his resolution as a substitute for the ordinance reported.

Mr. Cochran moved to recommit the whole subject to the committee. Temporarily withdrawn.

Mr. Morgan offered the following preamble as a preface to Mr. Jones's substitute:

And Mr. Catterlin's resolution was adopted as above given.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that in the formation of a government for the seceding States, the whole population of each State, without regard to color, should be taken as the basis of Congressional representatives; and the Secretary of this Convention shall furnish a copy of this resolution to each of our delegates to said convention.

The Convention refused to suspend the regular order of business, in order to allow the resolution to be introduced.

SECRET SESSION.

JANUARY 28, 1861—12 o'clock.

The Convention again went into secret session, to receive and read the Governor's communication in reference to the troops stationed at Pensacola:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 Montgomery, Ala., January 28, 1861. }

HON. WM. M. BROOKS, President State Convention:

SIR—The following resolution has been handed me by the Secretary of the Convention:

“Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor, be requested to communicate to this Convention, forthwith, any information he may have in reference to the propriety of withdrawing or continuing in service the troops now at Pensacola.”

In answer to the foregoing resolution I submit the following facts: On the 19th of January, the following dispatch was received by Col. Chase, at Pensacola, to wit:

“WASHINGTON, January 18, 1861.

“TO COL. W. H. CHASE:

“Yours received. We think no assault should be made. The possession of the fort is not worth one drop of blood to us. Measures pending unite us in this opinion. Bloodshed may be fatal to our cause.”

Signed by Senators Mallory, Yulee, Slidell, Benjamin, Iverson, Hemphill, Wigfall, Clay, Fitzpatrick, and Davis.

Since the receipt of this dispatch, I have had a conference with Senator Mallory of Florida, and Senator Fitzpatrick of Alabama, in reference to the reasons upon which it was predicated, in which they informed me that they and Senator Slidell had a personal interview with the President and Secretary of the Navy, and were assured by them that no attack would be made upon Fort Sumter and Fort Pickens, or any excuse given for the shedding of blood during the present Administration, and that they deemed it of great importance that no attack should be made by South Carolina upon Fort Sumter, or by the troops of the seceding States upon Fort Pickens, in the present aspect of affairs. I was also informed by them that it was the policy of the Republican party to force a conflict between the Federal Government and the seceding States before the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln, so that the responsibility of commencing a war should not be cast upon him. It was further stated by Mr. Mallory, that a special messenger had been sent by the Secretary of the Navy to the officer in command at Fort Pickens, directing that officer to prevent the ships, which had been ordered to Pensacola, from entering the bay. The officer sent was Capt. Barron, of Virginia, in company with Mr. Mallory.

This is all the information now in my possession, in reference to the attitude of the Federal Government and the seceding States.

In reference to the forces at Pensacola, I am informed by Col. Chase that some companies from Mississippi, now at Pensacola, are desirous of returning home, being planters, business men, &c. He has asked me what must be done in regard to this matter. I have answered him by telegraph, that the troops are under the orders of the Governor of Florida, and that the Governor of Alabama cannot specially interfere with the Mississippi troops.

I have also received a dispatch from His Excellency, J. J. Pettus, Governor of Mississippi, inquiring how long the Mississippi troops were desired to remain at Pensacola. I have telegraphed him that the Governors of Florida and Mississippi have alone the right to control the troops of Mississippi.

Notwithstanding it now appears, from the authority above given, that no attack is to be made upon the forts at Pensacola now in the possession of our forces at that point, I deem it inexpedient that all the troops should be withdrawn. It is important that we should be provided for any emergency that may occur, and that a sufficient number of troops should be drilled and ready to meet it. If the troops should all be withdrawn from Pensacola, it may have a demoralizing effect upon them, and upon volunteers generally, unless kept under orders at some other point. It would be more expensive to the State to transport them to some other position, and keep them under arms, than to permit them to remain at Pensacola.

The withdrawal of the troops from Pensacola might induce the belief among the Black Republicans that resistance was not intended, if coercion were attempted on their part, and thus give encouragement to them.

I have now briefly given the information in my possession, and also my opinion with regard to the withdrawal of the troops from Pensacola.

Very respectfully,

A. B. MOORE.

The question recurring on the motion of Mr. Brooks, to strike out the word "requested," and insert the word "authorized,"

Mr. Clemens moved to lay the amendment on the table.

Mr. Whatley moved to lay the resolution and amendment on the table.

Mr. Jemison called for a division of the question, and the motion to lay Mr. Burns's proposed amendment on the table was lost. Ayes 32—nays 46.

Baker of Barbour, Barclay, Beard, Brasher, Bulger, Clarke of Lawrence, Clemens, Coffey, Edwards, Ford, Franklin, Gay, Herndon, Hood, Inzer, Jemison, Jones of Fayette, Johnson, Kimball, Posey, Potter, Ralls, Russell, Sanford, Sheets, Sheffield, Shortridge, Smith of Tuscaloosa, Timberlake, Watkins, Whitlock, Winston—32.

Nays—Messrs. President, Bailey, Barnes, Beck, Blue, Bolling, Bragg, Clarke of Marengo, Cochran, Coleman, Crawford, Creech, Crook, Curtis, Daniel, Dargan, Davis of Covington, Dowdell, Forrester, Foster, Gibbons, Green, Henderson of Macon, Howard, Jewett, Jones of Lauderdale, Ketchum, Love, McClanahan, McPherson, McKinnie, Morgan, Owens, Rives, Ryan, Smith of Henry, Stone, Watts, Webb, Whatley, Williamson, Wood, Yancey, Yelverton—46.

The report of committee in relation to Section 1 was: They recommend that the section be amended by striking out all of said section, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“No slave shall be emancipated in this State by any act to take effect in this State or in any other country.”

Mr. Yelverton proceeded to discuss the question before the Convention, but gave way by request of Mr. Morgan, to allow him to make a motion to adjourn until 7 o'clock this evening, which motion was lost.

Mr. Clarke of Marengo, gave notice of a resolution which he would move to adopt on to-morrow, as follows :

Resolved, That during the remainder of the session of this Convention, no member thereof shall speak on any one subject longer than 20 minutes, and only once on said subject.

Mr. Jemison asked leave to return certain papers connected with the contested election case, which was granted.

Mr. Yelverton was entitled to the floor, and while addressing the Convention was called to order, and Mr. Posey raised the point of order, stating it to be that a member addressing the Convention called to order cannot proceed without leave of the Convention. The chair decided the point was not sustained, and an appeal being taken from the decision of the Chair, the yeas and nays were demanded with the following result: Yeas 28 and nays 27.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Montgomery, Ala., March 5th, 1861. }

HON. WM. M. BROOKS, President State Convention:

Sir: I beg leave to lay before the convention a letter from Hon. L. P. Walker, Secretary of War of the Confederate States of America, of which the following is a copy:

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA, }
 War Department, Montgomery, March 1st, 1861. }

Sir: The Congress have passed an act to raise provisional forces for the Confederate States of America, and for other purposes. I beg leave to enclose a copy of the act.

Under this act the President directs me to inform you that he has assumed control of all military operations in your State having reference to, or connected with, questions between your State and powers foreign to it.

He also directs me to request that you will communicate without delay to this department the quantity and character of arms and munitions of war acquired from the United States, and which are now in the forts, arsenals and navy yards of your State; and all other arms and munitions which your State may desire to turn over and make chargeable to this government.

The President further directs me to say that he will proceed with as little delay as possible to organize the provisional forces in the respective States, as provided for in the 3d and 4th sections of said act.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,
 your obedient servant,

L. P. WALKER,
 Secretary of War.

His Excellency, A. B. Moore,
 Montgomery, Ala.

I also herewith lay before the convention a copy of the act referred to in the foregoing letter.

I would not feel at liberty to turn over the property acquired from the United States, unless authorized by the action of the convention or legislature of the State. As it is the object of the President, in assuming control of the military operations of the Confederate States, to defend and protect them against foreign powers; he must be provided with the necessary means for so doing. This can only be done under present circumstances by transferring to the Confederate Government the arms and munitions of war in possession of the seceded States, ac quired from the Federal Government. There is now no other way of furnishing the President with the means of defending the Confederate States.

It is my opinion that the arms and munitions of war purchased by the State of Alabama should be retained to enable her to meet any emergency that may arise, except the two large columbiads purchased for the defence of Fort Morgan.

These matters are respectfully submitted for the consideration and action of the convention.

Very respectfully,

A. B. MOORE.

Mr. Morgan from the same committee, made the following report:

The committee on the constitution have instructed me to report,—

That in the opinion of the committee, it is not in accordance with the true theory of our government, nor is it sanctioned by a wise public policy, that the Judges of the Superior Courts of this State should be elected by a direct vote of the people.

In the American States that have adopted constitutions for their respective local governments, and have formed confederacies, the division of the great powers of government into legislative, executive and judicial departments, each independent of the other in their respective spheres, has universally prevailed. And in the confederacies formed by these States, there has been a steady adherence to this system.

This division of powers, and the independence of these three great departments of government, may be justly claimed as the foundation of the peculiar form of government styled republican amongst the North American States. It is a distinctive feature, without which no government could be called republican, in the sense in which that term is applied to this American idea of a republican form of government.

In the original formation of the early State governments, and in their constitutions, as well as in the constitution of the United States, the judicial department was made independent of the direct influence of the people. They had a voice in the selection of the agents who should appoint the judges, which agents were directly responsible to the people, but the judges, when chosen, were not directly accountable to the people for their conduct in office, nor were the people responsible to them. Each was independent of the other. The people made the laws through their representatives, and the judges construed and administered them.

The independence of the judiciary was as much a settled idea of the framers of republican institutions on this continent, and was as distinctly provided for in the several constitutions, as was the division of the powers of government into distinct and independent departments.

We have the right to assume, therefore, that the removal of the judicial department beyond the reach of the direct influence of the voting power of the people, was designed to be a part of the ground work of republican institutions, and that a departure from this plan is a departure from the form of government designated as republican by our fathers.

This radical change in the principles of our government, creating a feature entirely foreign to the original system, and destructive of its harmony, has been introduced, not in obedience to the demand of the people for greater power, nor for the purpose of correcting abuses of power by the judges, but because of the political advantages that would follow its adoption, and by way of indulgence to the false idea that the nearest approach to a pure democracy, would furnish the greatest security to personal liberty. Whereas, the recent history of the people and States of the American family has painfully demonstrated that personal liberty and security have the least protection when placed directly within the reach of the voting majority power. A republican government, embracing the checks and balances found in the constitution of the United States, and in most of the constitutions of the older States, affords to the people every power requisite to their safety, and gives them every assurance that so long as the people are pure, and faithful to the constitution, they will remain secure in their rights. This is the form of government approved by the people of America, and they have never lost faith in it.

The representative power of the people, as provided in the federal constitution, and in the original constitutions of the States, was quite as large as was consistent with the safety of those great and indispensable rights of the people, which the constitutions were framed to protect. The judiciary was carefully and effectually placed beyond the reach of the representatives of the people, except as to impeachments for official delinquencies. The judges were responsible to the people for the honesty of their conduct, but not responsible, except to the public conscience and to God, for the correctness of their judgments.

To extend the representative power of the people beyond its natural and just bounds, and to make the judiciary representatives of the people, is obviously a dangerous innovation upon the system of our government, and imminently hazardous to the security of life, liberty and property. For, if the judges are the representatives of the people, they must be faithless, if they do not respond to the opinions of those by whom they are elected. They would be more than human if they did not feel the temptation to represent the will of their constituents. And in thus responding to these opinions, they would represent a majority, and not all the people. Under such circumstances, the only remaining guaranty for the purity of the judiciary is the frail and unreliable hope that human nature, not always pure when removed from temptation, will remain pure when exposed, in a popular government, to the great temptation of the will and power of a majority of the people.

If a majority of the people must elect the judges by a direct vote, and if the judges may therefore feel secure in deciding questions, great or small, in accordance with the popular will, as expressed in their election, it comes to this at last, that the most sacred rights of the minority may be torn from them by a vote of the people. Such principles of government are plainly repugnant to constitutional liberty; and constitutions subject to be construed by the representatives of a majority, would become the most useful and convenient engines of destruction in the hands of the most dangerous despotism—an irresponsible voting majority.

The office of the representative is to make laws. The judge construes them when made. If the judge is also the representative, he will resort to judicial legislation in order to carry out the purposes of his party. The laws are made for all the people, and must not act unequally upon the people, otherwise, they are unconstitutional and void.

The judge, in dealing with the people, acts upon them individually, and not as a body. If each individual cannot, in the presence of the judge, demand his rights, because a majority of the people are against him, there is no possible security for the rights of individuals, except in the forbearance of the majority.

The majority have power enough, when they can make the laws to govern all the people, and to add to this power the right to construe the laws, and shut out even an inquiry into their constitutionality, is to create a dangerous despotism.

The individual can only look to the judge for protection, and if the judge may answer his demand for justice by a reference of the question to the people who elected him, his safety is at an end. There is no principle of representation in the relations of the judges to the people in a constitutional republic, such as our fathers gave us, and to introduce this principle, is to create a new form of government, not approved by our race in all its history, unsuited to our views of a pure judiciary, and condemned most signally in the experience of those States that have recently adopted such false ideas of government.

In all the great array of facts that have impelled the Southern States to disconnect themselves from a government which had ceased to respect that wonderful body of organic law contained in the constitution of the United States, nothing was more painfully true, or more destructive of our confidence in the people of the North, than the fact that judges, elected by the people, and the mere instruments of popular prejudice, would soil their ermine to deny us justice, because their robes were placed on their shoulders by the votes of a fanatical people.

It is equally true that the party now in power in the government of the United States, in order to employ the constitution for our destruction, have appealed to the ballot box for a repudiation of a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States upon the constitution, and boldly assert the responsibility of the judiciary to the public will. They declare it as one of the great purposes of their accession to power, that they will reform the judiciary, and make it bend to the opinions and will of the populace, so that the constitution shall be read according to their construction. This fact was the final destruction of the confidence of the people of the South in the power of the government of the United States to protect their rights.

The representative and the judge can not be united in the person of one man, so as to compel him to discharge both functions in one act, without the destruction of justice, and the violation of one or the other of his duties.

In a State where the executive power is not supreme, the judiciary is the only umpire to which the people can appeal, in the last resort, for justice and security. The constitution itself is to be construed by this umpire, and the decision is binding on the State and the people. The co-ordinate departments of the government can be brought before this umpire, and may be compelled to do justice, and to forbear to do wrong to a citizen. If this umpire is left under the constant and direct pressure of popular will, and is its representative, how can it be reasonably expected that on some occasion an unpopular cause will not be defeated without regard to justice, in deference to the voice of a majority? If such a thing may occur as a natural result of a false principle, the mere possibility of its occurrence is a conclusive reason why the principle should be discarded.

Without a pure judiciary, there is no safety in a republican government. Such governments fail of their whole purpose, if the most defenceless citizen, and the most unpopular cause cannot be protected with all the securities afforded by laws administered by a pure judiciary.

Justice to the people, and to the judges elected by them, under the present popular elective system in Alabama, requires the committee to express their belief that the selections of judges by the people has not resulted in placing inferior or unworthy men upon the bench, nor are the committee aware of any dereliction of duty on the part of the judges so elected, that might not as well have been expected under our former mode of electing the judges. But it is also our opinion that it is due to the fact that our people yet maintain their high traditional reverence for the law and the judiciary, that they have made such selections; and it is due to these considerations, and to the high personal integrity of the judges, that the evils of a bad system are not patent here, as they are confessedly notorious in some States that have suffered from this cause.

In times to come, when a dense population may be moved by those influences which always incline them to seek the power of the government for their own aggrandizement, it is fearfully certain that they will attempt to force their opponents into subjection, and dependence upon the majority, through the agency of the ballot box and the instrumentality of an elective judiciary.

It is needless to suggest that such a state of popular sentiment, should it ever occur, will prove destructive of every right which is not supported by the popular will,

and that constitutional guarantees for the rights of individuals will furnish them no protection.

The committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following amendments to the constitution of Alabama: Strike out Section 12 of the 5th Article of the Constitution, and all amendments of said section, and insert the following as Section 12 of Article 5:

SECTION 12. Chancellors and judges of this State, except judges of the court of probate, shall be nominated, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed by the Governor: Provided, that Judges and Chancellors now in office may respectively hold their offices during the term for which they were elected, unless removed by impeachment.

The resolution of Mr. Whatley, relative to the publishing of the journals of the State Convention, was taken up. The question being its reference to a select committee, it was so referred.

Mr. President appointed Messrs. Whatley, Clarke of Marengo, Creech, Russell and Green, said committee.

The hour of 12 having arrived, the convention proceeded to the consideration of the special orders, which was, first, the report of the select committee on reducing the size of the counties.

Mr. Johnson, from said committee, made the following majority report:

The special committee to whom was referred an ordinance entitled "an ordinance in relation to reducing the size of counties in this State," together with the various amendments proposed thereto, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report the following ordinance:

"An ordinance to amend the constitution in relation to the size of the counties in this State."

Mr. McClanahan, from the same committee, made the following minority report, and moved that said report be adopted:

"The undersigned, a member of the Committee on County Boundaries, to whom was referred an ordinance in relation to changing the size of the counties in this State, and other propositions therewith submitted, with the majority of said committee has considered the same, and asks leave to make the following minority report:

"The undersigned is of opinion that the constitution of the State as it now stands, on the subject of the formation of counties, should not be changed at this time, for many reasons, among which are the following, viz:

1. This convention was not called with a view to the consideration of the proposed changes;

2. The subject of the reduction of the size of the counties of the State has not been considered and passed upon by a large majority of the people, and it is but right that their opinions should be consulted and respected on this subject;

3. The proposed change may endanger the location of many of the county sites in this State, and thereby interfere with vested rights;

4. The proposed change will increase the annual expenses of our State government, and for that reason should be avoided;

5. The proposed change may make it necessary to increase the number of representatives and senators, or the tendency will be to make it necessary in elections therefor to bracket the smaller and weaker on to the larger and stronger counties, either of which results, for the sake of harmony and the rights of minorities, should be prevented;

6. The proposed change will make it more difficult and expensive to provide and maintain efficient county administration for the counties;

7. The proposed change will be fruitful in originating a system of private speculations throughout the State, that will subordinate the public to individual interests.

For these and other reasons, the undersigned reports that it is inexpedient to make the proposed change, or any other change, on the subject of the size of the counties of this State.

The yeas and nays were called on its adoption. Yeas 38—nays 44.

Yeas—Messrs. #### CALL OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Clemens, from Military Committee, reported amendments, and as amended, recommended the passage of the ordinance to give efficiency to the ordinance of 19th January, 1861, "To provide for the military defence of the State of Alabama." The report of the committee was concurred in, and the ordinance as amended by the committee was adopted.

Mr. Bragg, from Committee on Imposts and Duties, reported "an ordinance to confer upon the Government of the Confederate States of America, jurisdiction over the Custom-house and Marine Hospital at Mobile, and certain lighthouses, lights and bouys in Mobile bay, and for other purposes. Report concurred in, and ordinance adopted.

Mr. Bragg, from same committee, reported "an ordinance to transfer to the Government of the Confederate States of America the money in the hands of the Collector at the Port of Mobile. Report concurred in, and the ordinance adopted.

Mr. Dowdell, chairman of committee on Public Expenditures, made the following report:

The committee on Public Expenditures to whom was referred the communication from the Auburn Guards asking payment of a debt contracted for knapsacks for the use of said company, having had the same under consideration, report that it is in the power of the executive to grant the relief asked. Your committee asks to be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

The report was concurred in, and the committee discharged.

Mr. Whatley, chairman of a special committee, raised under his resolution on Monday, to enquire into the expediency of altering and amending the contract with Mr.

Smith, previously entered into, for printing the Journals with debates, reported as follows:

The special committee on publishing the Journals have had the subject under consideration and instructed me to make the following report: The plan heretofore adopted by the convention, to publish the Journals in connection with the debates upon the various questions pending before the convention, would render the Journals very voluminous, and much more expensive to the State, than was supposed by the committee on printing when the report on printing the Journals was adopted. Moreover, this committee is satisfied that the number of the Journals proposed to be taken by the report heretofore adopted is much larger than necessary. The amount proposed to be taken is equal to the usual amount of the House and Senate Journals. The two Houses usually take 800 copies, each, of their respective Journals, which would be 1600 copies proposed to be taken by this convention under the report heretofore adopted.

Besides, your committee are satisfied that the cost of publishing the Journals on the terms proposed would largely exceed their cost in the ordinary mode, and would cost the State not less than five thousand dollars.

The usual number of the Journals printed for the House of Representatives is 800 copies, and the cost to the State for the same is about ($1600) sixteen hundred dollars.

Mr. Wm. R. Smith, a member of our body, proposes to publish a book, to be bound in good style, containing a sketch of the debates before the convention on the more important questions which were discussed, and for that purpose desires certified copies of portions of the Journal. The book, in addition, will contain the reports and speeches by commissioners to and from this State. In order that Mr. Smith may carry out his object, your committee recommend that he be furnished by the Secretary with such papers and parts of the Journals as he desires.

Your committee recommend that the convention require the Journals to be printed in the ordinary mode, and that the Convention order 400 copies to be printed instead of 800, and in lieu of the other 400 copies of the Journals that the Convention purchase of Mr. Smith 300 copies of his debates, one copy for each member of the Convention, and the residue for the State.

The committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution, instead of the report on printing heretofore adopted:

Resolved, That the State Printers furnish the convention with 400 copies of the Journals of the convention, to be printed in the usual mode published for the House of Representatives, and that the convention purchase of Mr. W. R. Smith 300 copies of his debates, when published, to be paid for when delivered to the Secretary of State, and not to cost exceeding $5 per copy.

The report was concurred in, and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Clarke, of Lawrence, offered the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the political power in all free governments is inherent in the people, and that any attempt to infringe this great principle is dangerous in policy and directly subversive of civil liberty.

2. Resolved, That the right of every people to frame the system of government under which they are to live, is a fundamental doctrine in all free governments, and should not be questioned or impaired.

3. Resolved, That the acknowledgment of these established principles, the spirit and genius of American institutions, and the well ascertained precedents of republican usage, imperatively demand that the "Constitution of the Confederate States of America" shall be submitted to the people of this State for their ratification or rejection.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. Jewett, from the Committee on Public Lands, made a report as follows:

"The Committee on Public Lands, to whom was referred certain resolutions of this convention, directing them to inquire into the expediency of the State's making grants of the public lands in aid of railroads now in progress of construction, have instructed me to report, that the whole subject of the policy proper for the State to pursue in relation to its public domain, has been carefully considered by them, and that they regard the course heretofore pursued by the United States government, of making grants of alternate sections of land to railroads, within certain specified distances on either side of the route of said roads, as eminently wise and politic.

"Such donations have aided very materially in hastening such internal improvements to a speedy completion, and have likewise been greatly advantageous to those portions of the State through which such railroads have been built, by inviting an industrious and enterprising population to settle upon and improve their waste and unproductive lands; at the same time the advantages resulting to the government as the proprietor of the lands, have been invariably manifested even before the completion of the roads, by greatly increased sales of the public lands of all descriptions lying in the vicinity of their routes; and in very many instances by the sale of large portions of the reserved sections at enhanced prices, and bringing into the treasury just as much money as the entire body of lands would have commanded had no grants been made to the railroads.

"The committee, therefore, have considered the policy which seems to have guided the United States government on this subject, a proper and safe one for the State of Alabama to pursue.

"The grant of lands in alternate sections to railroads that may be projected in consequence of such promised aid, or advanced towards completion by the increased means thus placed at their disposition, your committee do not regard in any other light than as a safe and prudent measure, calculated to add to rather than detract from the value of the entire public domain, and particularly so when the State reserves for sale, at an increased price, the remaining sections.

"Your committee deem it the true policy of the State to dispose of the entire body of public lands at the earliest practicable period; not by diminishing the price of them, and thus holding out inducements to capitalists and speculators to make investments in them and buy up large bodies to be held from market, but by holding them at a fixed and reasonable price, so as to enable all persons of moderate means to become landholders, who may wish to settle upon and improve them.

"Your committee, therefore, recommend the passage of the accompanying ordinance, granting alternate sections of public land to certain railroad companies therein named."

The ordinances accompanying the report are—an ordinance entitled "An ordinance granting the right of way and making a grant of land to the Pensacola and Mobile Railroad and Manufacturing Company, in aid of the construction of a railroad connecting the waters of the Perdido river and Mobile Bay;" also, an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to grant certain lands belonging to the State of Alabama to certain railroad companies."

Mr. Yelverton, from same committee, made a minority report, with accompanying ordinance as follows:

"The undersigned regrets the necessity which induces dissent from the report of the majority of the Committee on Public Lands—especially in relation to the appropriations thereof, and would respectfully submit objections to the policy indicated in the report of the majority, and in opposition to the donations in the ordinance accompanying the same.

"1. The unappropriated public lands within the State of Alabama, having been declared and ordained to be the property of the State, it is proper to make such a disposition thereof as may be most conducive to the general and permanent interest of the State, or the people thereof. And while it is admitted that railroads are of great importance in the development of the resources of the State, yet experience demonstrates that railroads are profitable to the stockholders or else capitalists would not invest. Assuming then that railroad stock is good paying stock, it may be urged in fairness that the stock in all such roads as will pay will be taken and the roads built by private subscriptions and enterprize.

“2. If the State should unsettle its well-defined and oft repeated policy against State aid to rail roads, and should inaugurate a great internal improvement and State aid policy, a well-guarded system should be most carefully devised and permanently fixed in advance of particular appropriations, so as to prevent partial and promote general, equal and equitable State aid to every section and interest in the State. But it is here assumed that public opinion is not prepared for such a radical change; it would be a rapid march without authority from one extreme to another, and fraught with endless strife.

“3. The condition of public affairs at this time is such as to warn us against any measures of even apparent extravagance, or any such as in their tendency might alienate any portion of our people from another, or from their hitherto unexampled loyalty to the State. It is a fact not to be denied, not to be forgotten, not to be condemned, that on account of the secession of the State and the legitimate train of acts and circumstances connected with it, that heavy expenses have fallen upon the State, and others must follow. And while in the truest spirit and sense of honor and patriotism, our people will meet and promptly honor all such needful and rightful drafts upon them, it is moreover true that they will look to their Representatives in charge of affairs, to guard with becoming economy the resources of the State, and to see that no unnecessary drafts be made which would produce heavy taxes on them. Treating, then, the lands as resources acquired by secession, in view of the fact that heavy expenses have arisen from the same cause, common fair dealing seems to demand that the resources thus acquired should be treated as a distinct fund to meet the debt thus created.

“Resolutions looking to an ordinance referred to this committee, introduced by an honorable delegate from Chambers, setting apart the proceeds of the sales of the public lands to the payment of such debts as the State has and may incur by reason of secession, is regarded by the minority as proper, and an ordinance to that effect is herewith presented, and the passage thereof most earnestly and respectfully recommended.

"The minority ask leave also to report against all other ordinances and resolutions referred to the committee aforesaid, by which appropriations of any sort are asked to be made, either by the donation of any portion of the lands or the proceeds thereof."

Mr. Jemison moved to suspend the rules, to enable him to make a report from the Committee on Credentials. Carried.

Mr. Jemison, from said committee, then reported as follows :

"The Committee on Credentials, to whom was referred the subject of contest in the election of delegates from the county of Shelby, have had the same under consideration, and instruct me to report

"1. The sitting members, Geo. D. Shortridge and John McClanahan, were duly and properly returned. They were legally entitled to their certificate of election. This was clearly shown by the testimony adduced before the committee.

"2. The evidence, however, shows that the vote from Precinct No. 11 was not returned in the time prescribed by law, and that an election was held at said precinct, and had the vote at that precinct been counted, the majority of the popular vote would have been in favor of the contestants, Jno. R. Kenan and John F. Welch.

"3. It further appears that there were two other precincts in the county from which there were no returns, but it does not appear whether or not there was an election held at either of these precincts, and if held, who would have received a majority of legal votes cast in the county.

"Hence your committee consider the returned members, Messrs. Shortridge and McClanahan, as entitled to their seats.

"Your committee further instruct me to report, that from no part of the testimony or proceedings before them, does it appear that the contestants, in making their contest, had any other than a laudable motive of protecting the purity of the ballot-box, and insuring a fair expression of the popular will as thereby expressed. They therefore recommend that they be allowed mileage and per diem; to which end they report the accompanying ordinance, and recommend its passage."

The accompanying ordinance was entitled, "An ordinance to allow mileage to J. R. Kenan and J. F. Welch."

Montgomery, Ala., March 20, 1861. }

Hon. WM. M. BROOKS, President State Convention.

SIR: In answer to the first resolution of enquiry adopted on yesterday, I state that no patents have been received by the State of Alabama from the United States for lands under the act of Congress, approved 28th September, 1850.

In answer to the 2d resolution I beg leave to state that about an half million of acres of swamp and overflowed lands have been selected by Commissioners appointed by me under an act of the Legislature approved 24th February, 1860. A list of the lands so selected with the proper certificates of proof have been made out by the Commissioners, and were presented to and approved by me early in December last, and immediately forwarded to the Land Office at Washington for the purpose of having patents issued for the same. I have heard nothing further from them, and under existing circumstances I presume no patents will be issued for said lands.

The question as to whether the contract made with the Commissioners can be rescinded or not and the Commissioners discharged is strictly legal, and made in conformity with the act of the Legislature, and of course binding on both parties. As a general rule of law, each party has a right to insist upon his contract, and neither the Legislature nor the courts could impair such contract; but the Convention is the sovereign power of the State, and I presume may do whatever in its judgment may seem just and proper.

I would suggest, however, that if said Commissioners are discharged from the further prosecution of their duties under their contract, that provision should be made to pay them for services rendered. They have performed much labor which would have been valuable to the State, had no change been made in our relations to the Federal Government.

Respectfully,

A. B. MOORE.

"We are not the people, but only their agents; and we are their agents only in respect of the matters in reference to which we were sent by them.

"It follows that whatever else we have done is logically void, whatever, from political considerations, the judiciary may hereafter decide to the contrary. "The undersigned begs this may be recorded as his protest.
